THE TWO BONANZA MEN.

The New York Sun says: Ex-Senator James G. Fair of Nevada has been at the Gilsey House ever since the adjournment of Congress. He has become quite a well known figure on Wall Street as well as up-town. The Senator is by far the finest and best dressed of all the Pacific Coast millionaires. He is below medium height, has a plump figure and wears carefully trimmed whiskers and moustache. His eyes shine out attractively, and he has a pleasing way of twitching them when engaged in conversation. He goes to the theatre every night and usually occupies a box. He does not seem to mind people pointing at him. In fact, it is said, he rather enjoys the publicity. It has been charged by his enemies, whom he refers to as the Mackay crowd, that he goes out of his way to attract attention, and that he imagines that he is one of the most conspicuous figures in the country. An old Californian who is known as something of a wag is all the time joking ex Senator Fair about his idiosyncrasies. The wag is on good terms with both Mackay and Fair, so that he does not hesitate to say what he pleases to one, about the other. Day before yesterday he met Fair and said:

"Do you know the latest thing that John Mackay is telling about you?"

"No, nor do I care," said Fair, "but what is it?"

"Why, he said that when you come to New York you pose in some conspicuous place, and hire people to point you out to passers-by."

"It ain't so, but I would rather do that than run a hippodrome in Europe like Mackay does."

Hawthorne Happiness.

There is no use to mention names but both parties are well known in Hawthorne. They were married the other night. The next morning the bride asked her husband to lace her corset for her. He did so. Then the bride of a night burst into violent sobbing. She cried as if her dear little heart were going to break. The thoroughly alarmed husband tried in vain to soothe and calm her but it was several minutes before he could do so. Finally responding to his earnest entreaties, to tell him what was the cause of her anguish, she blurted out: "Oh Jimmy, if you hadn't laced a thousand and before, you could never have done it like that."—Hawthorne Bulletin.

An Eye Opener.

Hon. J. W. Haines, while in California learned the following from an Eastern gentleman who spent the winter in Los Angeles county. The Eastern gentleman, having decided to speculate in California real estate, made up his mind to purchase a 40 acre orange grove in Los Angeles county. The price of the land was $25,000, and the man only having $15,000 to invest, went to a bank in a neighboring town to borrow $10,000 to make the purchase. Great was his surprise to find that the bank would not loan over $4,000 on the $25,000 orange grove. He didn't purchase.

An Indian War Feared.

Bad blood seems to have been raised between the Zuni and Navajo Indians at Defiance, N. M., and both tribes are said to be gathering their forces preparatory to a struggle for mastery. The whites fear the elation of the successful tribe will cause an attack upon the settlers.

—A young woman of Washoe County, who has been married but a few months, has applied for a divorce, because her husband refuses to cut his toe nails. She says she is scarred from head to foot by coming in contact with them and her body looks like a map of Pownung's addition of Reno.

—An exchange speaks of beef as getting stronger in San Francisco. If the San Francisco beef is any stronger than that sold by the Pioche butchers, then the San Francisco people must be possessed of cast iron jaws.—Pioche Record.

—Who is the mysterious Kisser? Is it the long lost Charlie Ross or Col. Fair?

MARVELOUS CHANGES.

What the Future Will be to those who Refuse to Believe.

Is this country unconsciously undergoing a wonderful change, is the change to take place before we are aware of the fact, and when it has taken place will we wonder why we did not see it before it was too late? Those that see the changes early avail themselves early, and thereby receive benefit.

The shrewd iron man sees the iron interest transferred from Pittsburg and Pennsylvania to Birmingham, Alabama, and in his far-sightedness sees the furnaces in Pennsylvania torn down and deserted for this new and prolific field. It is claimed by the iron men of Alabama that the low price at which iron can be produced there will revolutionize the iron interests of the world.

We have seen the grain-growing centers of this country shifted to the West. We have seen the pork-packing industry flit from Cincinnati to Chicago, and from thence to Kansas City and Omaha. Southern cotton mills undersell New England and American markets, and challenge the world.

We have seen and are seeing all this take place before our eyes, and know that other changes are taking place equally as prominent, and we wonder as we behold them. Ten years ago the insurance companies only required an analysis of the fluids when they were taking insurance for very large amounts. To-day no first-class company will insure any amount unless they have a rigid analysis of the fluids passed, and if any traces of certain disorders are apparent, the application is rejected. In their reports they show that the death of sixty of every 100 people in this country, is due either directly or indirectly to such disorders. The Brompton Hospital for Consumptives, London, England, reports that sixty of every 100 victims of consumption also have serious disorders of the kidneys.

Among scientists for the treatment of this dread malady the question is being discussed:

"Is not this disorder the real cause of consumption?"

Ten years ago the microscope was something seldom found in a physician's office; now every physician of standing has one and seldom visits his patients without calling for a sample of fluids for examination.

Why is all this? Is it possible that we of the present generation are to die of diseases caused by kidney disorders? or shall we master the cause by Warner's safe cure, the only recognized specific, and thus remove the effects? It is established beyond a doubt that a very large percentage of deaths in this country are traceable to diseased kidneys. For years the proprietors of Warner's safe cure have been insisting that there is no sound health when the kidneys are diseased, and they enthusiastically press their specific for this terrible disorder upon public attention. We are continually hearing its praises sounded.

This means wonders! Cannot the proprietors of this great remedy, who have been warning us of the danger, tell us how to avoid a disease that at first is so unimportant, and is so fatal in its termination? Are we to hope against hope, and wait without our reward?

The most significant of all changes, however, that we of to-day can note is this radical change of view to which the public has been educated: It was formerly thought that the kidneys were of very small importance; to-day, we believe, it is generally admitted that there can be no such thing as sound health in any organ if they are in the least degree deranged.
